Enochian magic is a system of ceremonial magic based on the evocation and commanding of various spirits. It is based on the 16th-century writings of John Dee and Edward Kelley, who claimed that their information, including the revealed Enochian language, was delivered to them directly by various angels. Dee's journals contained the Enochian script, and the tables of correspondences that accompany it.
Dee and Kelley believed their visions gave them access to secrets contained within the Book of E

Enochian Magic is an extremely powerful form of magic that is mainly practiced by angels. It is closely related to enochian language. Because there are many variations of angels, there are also many variations of angel magic that is specific to the angel. For example, while angels are known to possess highly advanced and very powerful angelic magic with the ability to banish demons, resurrect the dead, and travel through alternative dimensions, other angels are unable to achieve these feats ...

The Enochian language formed the foundation for a rudimentary theurgical system begun by Dee, but never completed. Eventually, the Enochian alphabet and language became the basis of the Golden Dawn's magical system until abandoned by Paul Case, due to his belief in the inherent danger of the system. The Enochian alphabet consists of twenty-one letters, and the language, like Hebrew and other angelic

Likewise, the general rule is that to control an Enochian deity or demon, one must know its name. Once the name is known the awareness itself produces a subtle link with that deity. This link is sufficient, in some cases, to either allow one to go to the deity or to allow the deity to come to oneself.
